Curriculum Pros and Cons

What are some pros and cons of the Praise Factory curriculum?

Pros

- The spiral of truth allows your children to be introduced, then have reinforcement.
- The many activities keeps the materials engaging.
- The cost is only what it costs you to print out and prepare your materials.
- It is scripted so that volunteers can teach developmentally appropriately.
- There are resources for parents to use with their children at home.
- The children learn biblical truths as well as many Christians from church home.
- Flexible lessons that can be taught in just one week or over multiple weeks.
- Flexible activities can adapted for many different settings.
- Every lesson plan follows the same paradigm. Once your teachers learn it, it's easy to teach.
- Can be used for patchy/variable attendance situations because each lesson is self-contained.
- It is available online so any teacher can access the materials, even if they don't have a printed copy.

- Difficult theological concepts are well-worded to fit young minds.
- Not just questions, but also answers to the questions are provided for even the most difficult questions.
- Many stories are included that are not discussed in other curriculums available.

Cons

- While the curriculums are easy to teach once you get to know them, they can be difficult to learn.
- It is often critical that you have one person or a couple of people learn how to teach the curriculum.
- There is a lot, a lot of material! You will probably need to choose which a year you will use.
- With the Praise Factory (K-5 grade) curriculum, you will find it difficult to teach.
- None of the curriculums are available for order, only download. You will have to pay for the download.
- Not a lot of customer service. I'm focusing on writing for the time being.
- Only available in the NIV at present.
